TESTIMONIAL TO WALDON'S WORK

Splendid Tribute Paid to Scoutmaster
at Pig Roast When Men Entertained Boy Scouts.

GIFT PRESENTED TO WALDON

Steps Are Taken to Form Local Council Which Will be Governing Body in Local Affairs.

As a testimonial to the work of Clarence E. Waldon, Scoutmaster of the local troop of Boy Scouts, sixty-five men gathered at the pig roast given in the basement of the Main Street Christian church last night and had as their guest as many boys, the majority of whom were Boy Scouts.

After the banquet, a crowd of men gathered in the church parlors upstairs and arrangements were made for a Local Council, which is the governing body provided for in Scout law. A committee of six men was appointed last night and each member of the committee will bring three more men with him to a meeting at the court house assembly room next Wednesday evening, when the Local Council will be named. The members of the committee were to be consulted today and their consent to act obtained.

The Local Council will likely be composed of fifteen or eighteen men, and it is desired that they be representative men. This body serves as a final court of appeal in local matters. Within the council is what is termed the executive council of four or five members, which practically directs the work of the local troops. The Scout Commissioner, when appointed, will have general directing power over all the troops, which it is hoped will be organized.

As a climax to the tribute which was paid last night to Mr. Waldon, the Boy Scouts who follow the leadership of Mr. Waldon and a number of men who have appreciated his work for some time presented him with $25. The presentation speech was made by Vernal Spivey, a Scout.

For the moment Mr. Waldon was completely overcome with emotion and could not reply. His deep appreciation of the gift and the spirit in which it was given caused the tears to course down his cheeks; he arose to speak, but his vocal organs refused to work and he sat down.

Mr. Waldon later thanked the men and the boys for such a splendid remembrance, more especially the feeling that lay back of the gift. He said, his voice husky, that he had become discouraged and had even made plans to give up the work this week because of the lack of co-operation and encouragement, but that since he had found the parents of the boys and other men behind the movement, he would give the best that was in him to make it grow.

The Rev. C. M. Yocum presided as toastmaster. He spoke briefly of the accomplishments of the young men in all history and in all fields of endeavor and how necessary it was that the older men pay some attention to the boys who will be bearing the burden tomorrow. As one illustration, he recalled that 2,700,000 men in the rebellion, 2,100,000 were under 21 years of age and one million were under 18 years of age.

Mr. Yocum introduced Mr. Waldon, and the Boy Scouts program started with nine rahs for the women who served the upper and for W. A. Alexander who gave the pig for the roast. Mr. Waldon gave a brief history of the movement. He explained fully the workings of the organization.

The Daily Republican Celebrates the Tenth Anniversary of Its Birth Today

MARSHAL IS HELD LIABLE FOR ESCAPE

Jury So Decides in Giving Mary C.
Schaeffer Judgment Against
Peter Wagoner.

STRANGE KNIGHTSTOWN CASE

Miss Mary C. Schaeffer of Knightstown, was given a judgment against Peter Wagoner, former marshal of that place, yesterday by a jury in the Henry circuit court. Miss Schaeffer demanded $300 and was given $267.90 by the jury. The Fidelity Guaranty company was also a defendant, being the bondsman for Wagoner when he was marshal of Knightstown. The jury, it is understood, had no trouble in arriving at a verdict, the general opinion being that Miss Schaeffer had been treated wrongly by Earl (Cooney) Reiser, and that since he had been allowed to escape, the person who was negligent should stand the consequences.

Miss Schaeffer was given judgment against Reiser, but as he could not be found, she then filed suit against Wagoner, who was responsible for him.

EXPOSITION TO BE READY SOON

Directors of Panama Pacific Event
Promises to Have it Finished 8
Months Ahead of Time.

IT IS 80 PER CENT DONE NOW

First of Gigantic Buildings to be Completed is Largest Wooden
Building Ever Constructed.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Mar. 14.—The Panama Pacific Exposition will be completed eight months before the date of its scheduled opening—February 20, 1915. This was the promise made here today by its directors.

San Francisco has just turned herself loose along the two-mile waterfront of the nearly completed "enchanted city." She filled the entire day and part of a night with jubilation, sports, a naval display, races, oratory, grand opera and bombilation of cannon, because she had made another world-record.

The jubilee was celebrated amongst the nearly completed towering palaces with their marbled domes and their half completed parts and gorgeous gardens. And it was called forth by the certainty that everyone of the mammoth exhibition palaces—each one covering from five to ten acres—and every lake and fountain and avenue and garden and all the minor palaces of the exposition will be completed and ready for occupancy just eight months before the opening day. The record which the hustling Californians have broken is

Up in the left hand corner of The Daily Republican today appears the following: "Vol. 11. No. 1." Yesterday in the same place appeared the following: "Vol. 10. No. 313."

And thereto is connected a story of ten years of work and endeavor. In other words, the Daily Republican was ten years old today.

The Daily Republican is not the infant it was ten years ago today when it timidly asked consideration from the people of Rushville and Rush county. It has abandoned its swaddling clothes, even its kilts. It has grown to a man's size even in ten years, and on this, the anniversary of its first decade on earth, it wishes profoundly and earnestly that it can advance as much in the second decade as it did in the first.

Ten years ago today the Republican appeared in four pages, and that first day, according to stories that have been remembered through the years, the force of those days felt like it had accomplished a mighty task filling those four pages with news when had been printing a paper only twice a week.

The Republican won the favor of the people of Rushville and Rush county and its subscription list grew fast. The patronage accorded the infant was so satisfactory that it began to cut its teeth early and kicked the slats out of the cradle long before it was expected to stand alone.

In those days the Republican possessed a simplex type-setting machine. It set the individual letters, but the Republican soon outgrew that machine, and a modern linotype was purchased. In the latter no type is used, but a solid line of metal is cast and on the top is impressed the letters to form words. Along with the linotype machine came other up-to-date equipment.

As the years sped by, the demands of the newspaper grew greater until today the Daily Republican feels that it can safely say (and not be making the statement in a spirit of braggadocio) that it has a newspaper plant better equipped than any in Indiana, the size of the field taken into consideration.

By applying advanced methods and keeping pace with the times, the Republican has been able to win favor with the people of the city and county and its only hope is that it can continue to be of service to the community in giving all the news.

It has been in the tenth year that the Daily Republican has made the greatest strides. In addition to doubling its type-setting capacity by adding a second linotype machine, the Republican purchased the latest model flat-bed, web-perfecting newspaper press. The linotype machine enables the Republican to set more news matter and thus print more news on the day it happens. The press makes it possible to print the whole paper at the same time and with many times greater speed. Ten years ago we started with 325 subscribers and today the new newspaper press is necessary so we can print 1905 papers in a short space of time and get the papers to our subscribers while the news is still news.

The patronage of the Republican has increased steadily which has, in a large measure, enabled it to keep the plant up-to-date and modern. The arrangement for a foreign news service to get the cream of the events outside of Rush county each day is also an achievement of the last year and added greatly to the quality and standing of the Republican as a newspaper.

While the Republican has been striving to get ahead all the time, Rushville has made wonderful changes in the last decade. One has but to recall Rushville of ten years ago to enumerate the marvelous changes which have been wrought: paved streets, ornamental street lights, new school buildings, new business blocks of the most modern type, new factories, more people, a chautauqua and coliseum, new homes, more improved dirt streets, many miles of cement sidewalks added, more modern business houses and so many other things which might be enumerated.

The Republican had always hoped to set the pace, but it is free to confess that it will have to make rapid strides if it is to keep ahead, for Rushville, with the confidence coming from past accomplishments, has great things in store in the future, and it is the earnest wish of the Republican that Rushville and Rush county may prosper the next decade as it has the last.

CONFERENCE OF CREDITORS TODAY

Several Who Hold Large Claims
Against A. P. Walker Meet in Indianapolis Today.

TO CONSIDER COMPROMISE

A conference of several of the large creditors of A. P. Walker was held today in the law office of William Henley in Indianapolis. It was understood that the conference was for the purpose of talking a compromise and settling the case with his creditors out of court. Several of the large creditors of Walker were represented at the meeting but all creditors were not notified of the meeting. It is understood that before a compromise can be reached all the creditors have to agree and it is understood that this is impossible.

It was rumored here that an effort would be made to settle with the creditors for seventy cents on the dollar. This has been talked for some time but nothing definite done. It is understood that even if the estate was settled for seventy cents on the dollar some of the creditors would stand to lose between six and seven thousand dollars.

CHILDREN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Nineteen Are Hurlled Down Embank-
ment Near Milroy When School
Hack Turns Over.

ROLLS DOWN TWENTY FEET

One Little Girl, Ocea Foster, May be
Fatally Hurt, But Others Are Not Serious.

A school hack containing nineteen children rolled off the grade just west of Milroy yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. Seventeen of the nineteen children were injured, but only one seriously. Their escape is considered miraculous.

Ocea Foster was the one badly hurt. All were taken back to Milroy and given medical attention. Their injuries consisted of cuts and bruises, while the Foster girl is believed to be injured internally.

The embankment is twenty feet high and the school hack turned over two or three times. That some of the children were not killed or seriously injured is considered remarkable. The hack was torn to pieces.

Isaac Spurling, driver of the hack, states that he turned around to say something to the children and in doing so accidentally pulled on the lines and the team brought the hack too near the edge of the embankment.

The very fact that the hack was closed saved the lives of many of the children, it is believed, or at least saved them from fatal injuries. They were a frightened lot of youngsters when they were brought back into

SIX WOMEN GET 2 MONTHS BAD SITUATION AVERTED

Suffragists Sentenced for Breaking
Windows—Mrs. Pankhurst Freed.

(By United Press.)

London, Eng., Mar. 14.—Two months in prison at hard labor was the punishment imposed this afternoon in police court on six militant suffragists who smashed all the windows of the street floor of Home Secretary McKenna's home. The women used long-handled hammers in the raid. They made no attempt to escape arrest. They received one of the quickest trials in the history of the militant movement.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was released today from jail after having conducted a successful hunger strike.

A new telephone has been installed at Ed Bell's home. The number is 3357.

Secretary Bryan Replies to Huerta's
Protest on Arms Embargo.

(By United Press.)

Mexico City, Mar. 14.—Secretary Bryan's formal note which reached here today, acknowledging the receipt of Huerta's protest against the lifting of the United States embargo on the importation of arms, averted a serious situation, according to Mexican officials, who said it would have been necessary to have given Charge O'Shaughnessy his passport if the Washington government had not replied to Huerta's protest.

"Huerta intends to burn Mexico City as Nero burned Rome if the capture of the city by Rebels seems imminent," said a prominent Mexican today.

THERE IS ONE WAY TO BE SAVED

Evangelist at St. Paul M. E. Church

Points to Most Astonishing
Statement in the Bible.

CONTRAST TO OTHER FAITHS

Big Day For Tomorrow is Planned
With Special Evangelistic Turn
to All the Services.

There was a large audience present at the Methodist church last night in attendance at the evangelistic meetings. Mr. Harriman sang, "The Pilot Song." He also preached the sermon. The text was, Acts 4:12, "Neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men, wherein we must be saved."

This was the most astonishing statement in the scriptures, he said. It would seem at first to be egotistic in that it assumed there was no other way of salvation. Yet this was true.

He contrasted the christian religion with other religions, showing that these did not save but led men into deeper superstition and despair, while Christ in the gospel led them into peace and hope.

He first pointed out that salvation was redemption from sin. Sin was the universal fact with which all had to deal. Christ alone was able to deal with this. He himself was sinless and he died for sin. No other faith promised as much and no other religion could therefore save from sin, he declared.

The Christian Scientists were "in error" in that they denied the reality of sin, and the necessity for an atonement of sin, the evangelist continued. This sect had no corner on the spirit of optimism either, he said, as he mentioned the second element in salvation which he called "Present Comfort." He pointed out how Christ brought to men consolation amid all the difficulties and discouragements of life. This phase of Christianity had been emphasized for centuries, long before the Christian Science Sect had arisen, he said. The latter, therefore, was telling the world nothing new when it stressed the possibility of serenity in the midst of trial and trouble, he added. The hope of eternal life was again pointed out as a prominent element in the Christian religion. It gave assurance of the world to come. It was in this connection that he related a touching story of a Japanese who had studied the Christian religion with the view of criticising it. This man attended the funeral of the child of a missionary. He observed that the Christians did not sorrow as the Japanese with desperate wailing and evident despair, or as Paul expressed it, "they sorrowed not as those who have no hope." This fact convinced the native critic that there was a reality in the Christian religion in that gave men hope and assuaged their sorrow.

Tomorrow, will be an interesting day at the church. All the services will be given an evangelistic turn. Decision Day will be held in the Sunday school. It is anticipated that many young people will make the decision tomorrow. Mr. Harriman will address the Sunday school at the close of the Sunday school period on "What It Means to be a Christian." Mr. Harriman will also preach at the evening service. He will sing at the services tomorrow, at the Sunday school, the morning preaching services and will sing two solos at the night service.

Tomorrow the congregation will be invited to make their first offering toward the expenses of the meetings.

HOPE TO PLANT MILLION TREES

This is Slogan of Indiana Forestry Association and Bids Fair to be Realized

IN CHARGE OF O. A. CHARLES

Arbor Day Plans are Backed by Commercial Clubs Through out State—Will Continue Campaign

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., March 14.—“A million trees planted in Indiana on Arbor day,” the slogan and hope of the Indiana Forestry Association, bids fair to be realized now that the matter has been taken up by the commercial clubs, chamber of commerce, business men's, merchant's and civic association of the state.

George B. Lockwood, the secretary of the association, announces that this work has been put in charge of O. A. Charles of Muncie.

Mr. Charles is well acquainted with the heads of commercial clubs, chambers of commerce, and civic associations all over the state as he has been actively engaged in organizing and lecturing before such bodies, and he has a reputation of making good in any civic enterprises he takes up.

The matter of planting trees has been taken up with every organized body of business, commercial and civic interests in the state and the response to the invitation to participate in planting trees on Arbor day shows that the people of Indiana are very much alive to the value of the movement.

The Lafayette (Ind.) chamber of commerce at a meeting of the board of directors March 4th, took up the question of planting trees on Arbor day and an effort will be made to have from 2,000 to 2,500 trees planted in that city.

One of the significant features of the Arbor day campaign before commercial clubs is the fact that individual merchants and business men are taking up this movement. M. Schultz, the proprietor of a department store at LaFayette, has made it an annual custom to give away two hundred trees every spring, and reports of similar movements by other towns are coming in from all over the country.

Charles states that there are about a hundred active commercial organizations in Indiana and he says that practically all of these organizations will take an active part in the movement for planting trees on Arbor day.

An active campaign is being kept up to keep interest alive. Charles says that trees suitable for planting can be obtained for ten cents each and he believes that no city could spend a hundred dollars in any way that would be as beneficial as in the buying of one thousand trees and planting them on that day.

what it will accomplish with the boy and the reasons for its existence. The speakers later confessed that they knew nothing of the movement and that they were very much impressed with the conception of it they had.

Mrs. Waldon gave a reading and was compelled to respond with a second that aroused more applause than the first.

W. M. McBride followed with a toast to the Boy Scout movement. He won favor with the boys instantly with several clever stories. He said he was reminded of a story as he sat across the table from Ralph Payne and Link Guffin during the "battle of pigs." The old colored woman, he said, was late to church and the parson severely reprimanded her. She explained that she had had an accident. The parson answered that in such cases she should just "trust to de Lord" and come ahead.

"But parson," she replied, "I was a trustin' in the Lord until the bellie band broke, then I just give up."

Mr. McBride said he had always had a faint idea of what Mr. Waldon was accomplishing with the boys, but that he had never appreciated his work as he should. He said the fibre of the man was easily explained by the way he gave way to his emotions when presented with the gift. Mr. McBride spoke of the excellent opportunities which were presented in work of the sort Mr. Waldon was doing because of the fine supply of "raw material."

E. O. Humes and W. A. Alexander were called on and each spoke briefly. Ralph Payne was asked to speak. He said that in making a survey during the Men and Religion Forward Movement here he had found that little attention was given to the boys of Boy Scout age. He said that they need encouragement, especially from men. He pleaded for the friendly nod to the boy, no matter where he is or who he is. He declared that the men owed it to the boys. He expressed hearty approval of the movement and offered to co-operate in any way.

O. C. Norris said that he had learned more of the movement than he ever knew and that he was ready to do his part. Carl Webb, in response to a call of his name, declared that he had always felt that Mr. Waldon was doing a wonderful work, but had feared that it was not appreciated. He urged the organization of the local council.

John A. Tittsworth was asked to speak. He declared every man derelict who does not voice approval and appreciation of Mr. Waldon's work. He recalled that he had said to a man two years ago that Mr. Waldon was accomplishing wonders with the boys. The man replied that he knew that, but he was afraid very few others knew it. A short time later, Mr. Tittsworth said, an expert in boys work came here and he said he was more impressed with Mr. Waldon and his accomplishments with boys than anything he had seen in Rushville. The next day it was in the newspapers, Mr. Tittsworth said, and then everyone began to realize what Mr. Waldon was doing. Mr. Tittsworth spoke of a value of a friendly smile to a boy and how he prized recognition from his elders.

Dr. C. H. Parsons spoke briefly concerning the movement and expressed his hearty co-operation. A victrola from George C. Wyatt & company's furnished several selections.

FADDISH DANCES ARE UNHEALTHY

This is Declaration of Athletic Director at Ohio State University. Causes Stoop Shoulders.

INTERFERES WITH BREATHING

(By United Press.) Columbus, O., March 14.—Faddish dances are unhealthy.

Such was the declaration today of Dr. H. Shindle Wingert, athletic director at Ohio State university.

"This slouchy walk that masquerades under the name of a dance is ruining the poise and natural grace of half our students," he said. "It is my belief, based on observation, that this walk is unhealthy. It tends to cause stooped shoulders and flat chests which interfere with normal respiration. College students dance more than other people, and naturally are the first to be affected."

"The many variations of the 'castle walk' and the 'fish walk' require only locomotion. The result is that the exercise in dancing is lost. Instead come the flat chests and stooped shoulders," Dr. Wingert declared that the new dances taught under university supervision apparently have been forgotten. The reason for this, he said, is due to the fact that in dancing new steps one has to think of what they are doing and that cannot be done while carrying on a conversation.

Enlightening Facts.

The Newcastle Times announced that the piano company at Newcastle is closed until the first of April. It said this was in accordance with the announcement made the first of the year, as it was necessary to make certain repairs to the boiler and one of the engines.

The Newcastle Courier passes the Times the lie. The Courier says that the announcement is a "sample of the stuff being worked off on the people by the Democratic press in order to bolster up business conditions all over the country." The Courier says the plain and unvarnished truth is the piano factory is down, all departments being closed except the action room, which has enough work to keep it going a few weeks.

The Courier continues that "the factory is down, like those of its kind all over the United States, is down because business is slack. People are not buying pianos for some reason or other and the factories have not the orders. That's the truth and every piano man will tell you so.

"The Starr piano factory at Richmond has been down for several weeks and scores of workmen from Richmond have been here hunting jobs. The situation is the same all over the middle west and the east. Something has happened to knock the bottom out of the business and the man who works in the mill room, at the bench, in the regulating room, polishing department or varnishing room is being made to suffer. He is the man who feels it first and the longest.

"The string department at the local piano factory is entirely separate from the main institution, the owners simply renting space and power from the French Co. That department is down and not an employe is working and its largest customers, representing piano concerns all over the country, have either cut their orders in half or are placing none at all.

"Of course, every one hopes and prays that the shut-down will not be for long, at least no longer than at present contemplated, April 1. It is the first halt the French plant has made since the "bankers' panic" of 1907, but business quickly recovered from that inexcusable flurry.

In the meantime the local Democratic organ must not try to work off

on an unsuspecting public such guff as is contained in the announcement. It was printed either through ignorance or with a design to deceive and fool people as to the conditions over the country. The Courier wants and likes prosperity as much as The Times does, but no amount of fibbing and deception is going to bring it.

When the Democratic county convention meets Saturday it will be well for the resolutions committee to bear in mind that to "point with pride" to the "prosperous conditions" will hardly be borne out by local facts, the cause of which is far more deeply seated than "certain repairs to the boiler and one of the engines."

*****
* "BILLY" LEAVES ALL * * TO FOUND HOSPITAL *
*****
(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, Mar. 14.—Thanks to "Billy" there's many a wandering, scrawny alley cat or abused homeless dog that will hereafter be able to find refuge when sick or starving. "Billy" was a huge Maltese cat that for sixteen years was a member of the household of Dr. William B. Griggs, of 1326 North Twelfth street.

Before "Billy" was five years old he had become famous among the doctor's patients and among the neighbors and hundreds of school children who passed the house daily, through the tricks he had learned.

One of his favorites was begging coins. To patients who were waiting in the doctor's reception room "Billy" would stretch out his paws and in unmistakable sign language beg for money. If the patient happened to be a man, Billy would stand on his hind legs, and resting one of his front paws on the patient's leg would strike the man with his paw until he heard the jingle of coins in a pocket. In the case of a woman Billy would jump to the patient's lap, and struggle with a handbag or purse until the owner produced a coin for him. He would take the coin gingerly in his mouth, run with it to the edge of the rug and push it under. No amount of coaxing could get Billy away from that spot until Dr. Griggs or his wife removed the coin. The doctor and his wife kept the coins in a bank that belonged to Billy.

A few days ago, Billy departed from these nine feline lives. The diagnosis was old age and complications. The bank was opened and found to contain $5.83—all of it earned by Billy through his tricks. With this nucleus Dr. Griggs added another sum and presented it all to the Morris Refuge Association to be used in establishing a hospital here devoted exclusively to the treatment of cats and dogs. The fund which Billy started by bequeathing all his worldly wealth to the Morris Refuge Association, is soon to be increased materially and the hospital is to be opened in a few weeks. No animal, no matter how sick, no matter how old, no matter what his antecedents and environments, will be refused treatment at the hospital.

PROSECUTION IS ABOUT DONE

Reported That Further Investigation
of Bloomington Church Case
May be Held, However.

TRANSCRIPT IS BEING MADE

Whether Commission Will Render
Verdict at Close of Trial is Problematical Now.

Martinsville, Ind., March 14.—When the last witness had been examined last night the prosecution in the trial of the Rev. John R. Ellis of Bloomington by a commission appointed by the Indianapolis Presbytery was practically completed. Several additional witnesses came from Bloomington during the day to corroborate those who had preceded them, and at adjournment time the Rev. Mr. Ellis himself had not been on the witness stand.

Members of the Bloomington congregation, who are pushing the charges to have their former pastor ousted from the presbytery, were much pleased when the commission ruled to admit the depositions of three Bloomington women, which, it is said, contained most of the charges against the minister.

The last witness brought from Bloomington was John Ehni, one of the church elders, who was called by telephone and arrived in a taxi. Miss Margie Campbell, a student of the Bloomington High School, testified that she had seen a woman enter the minister's study at the church by a side door.

Other witnesses for the church were Dr. Horace A. Hoffman, head of the economics department of Indiana University; Dr. Homer E. Strain, George Hohn Charles H. Springer, Joseph Ratliff and M. H. Waterman, all office bearers of the congregation.

It was reported that the commission would send a committee to Bloomington to continue its investigations.

A stenographer has been present at all the sessions and at the close she will make a complete transcript of the evidence, furnishing each member of the committee with a carbon copy.

Whether the commission will render its verdict at the close of the trial or at a later date is not known.

Those in charge of the case for the church telephoned to Bloomington for Dr. E. H. Lindley to come to this city. Dr. Lindley is at the head of the philosophy department of Indiana University, and it is said that he may be used by the congregation in case Ellis brings up any points concerning hypnotism by the medical experts at the Clifton Springs sanitarium in New York.

Mrs. Ellis and sons were on the stand last night.

TRADE BALANCE IS IN FAVOR OF U.S.

For the Period of January, 1914, Alone, the Sum on the Right Side of the Ledger was $50,000,000.

IMPORTS BY THE DIVISIONS

Total for Three Classes During Seven Months Ending Last January Exceed $573,000,000.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Washington, March 14.—Detailed figures of the imports and exports from the United States for January, 1914, published today by the Department of Commerce, show imports in January approximating $154,400,000 and exports slightly in excess of $204,100,000, a total trade of a little over $358,500,000. In the seven months' period ended with January, 1914, imports were a little below $1,067,900,000 and exports were something more than $1,522,100,000, an aggregate trade in excess of $2,590,000,000. The trade balance favoring the United States is about $50,000,000 for the month of January 1914, and for the seven months ended January, 1914, exceeds $454,000,000.

Looking at the figures by groups, the imports in January of the three classes of manufactures were of "Foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured" a little over $15,700,000, of "Manufactures for further use in manufacturing" something over $25,200,000, and of "Manufactures ready for consumption" more than $39,000,000, a total exceeding $79,900,000. Exports in the same classes were $29,100,000, and $52,400,000, respectively, an aggregate of over $111,000,000. Each class of manufactures shows a substantial trade balance in favor of the United States. The total imports of the three classes of manufactures for the seven months ended with January, 1914, exceeded $573,000,000 and the total exports surpassed $838,000,000, showing a balance of trade in favor of the United States approximating $265,000,000.

The figures by grand divisions for January, 1914, in comparison with January, 1913, show increases in imports of about $2,200,000 from North America and about $300,000 from Oceania, while imports from the other

grand divisions decreased. Exports to Asia increased about $500,000, and to Africa about $700,000, but decreased to the other grand divisions. In the seven months ended January, 1914, as compared with corresponding period of the preceding year, imports from North America increased about $30,000,000 and from Asia about $3,000,000, but decreased from the other grand divisions. On the export side, our sales to Europe increased about $17,500,000, to Asia about $11,600,000, to Oceania about $1,000,000, and to Africa something over $500,000, but to North America they decreased about $31,000,000 and to South America about $4,000,000.

Our best customers in January, 1914, as well as in the seven months ended with January, 1914, were the United Kingdom, Germany, Canada, and France in the order named, and they retained the relative positions held by them in the corresponding periods of the preceding year. Our aggregate trade with the United Kingdom in January of this year exceeded $84,000,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over January of last year, and the increased sales to that country were even greater than the increased total trade, as imports therefrom fell off about $200,000. Germany with a total trade exceeding $50,600,000 in January, 1914, also shows increased trade over January, 1913, the gain being about $2,000,000. With Germany also the increase in sales thereto, amounting to about $3,400,000, is greater than the increase in total trade. Trade with the United Kingdom in the seven months' period under consideration shows a decrease in the aggregate approximating $27,000,000, of which less than $3,400,000 is in our sales thereto. In the same period, trade with Germany increased about $17,500,000 in the aggregate, while our exports to that country increased over $23,600,000. Thus, trade with our two best customers, the two largest manufacturing countries of the world with which we have to deal, shows increasing balances favoring the United States, both for the month of January and for the seven months ended with January, 1914.

A STAY-AT-HOME EPIDEMIC

(By United Press.)

Bedford, Ind., March 14.—A "stay-at-home- epidemic" has prevailed in this city for almost two weeks, and many Bedford wives have embraced the opportunity to become better acquainted with their husbands. No "important business, club, lodge, or church meeting" excuses were even attempted for the city board of health has had in effect a quarantine stopping public meetings of all kinds. Churches, schools, theaters, clubs, lodges and all public gathering places have been affected. The pool and billiard rooms of the city became social centers and they were closed.

A small-pox scare that never has approached an epidemic was the cause of turning out the downtown lights attractive to the "sterner" population. Failure to call physicians promptly created opportunities for a spread of the dreaded disease that never materialized. The health department took no chances and upon the first diagnosis clamped down the lid with a vengeance. Thanks to the severe quarantine the city will soon be practically free from small-pox, it is believed.

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief In Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." —Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

Seven Keys TO Baldpate

By EARL DERR BIGGERS

Copyright, 1913, by the Bobbs-Merrill Company

CHAPTER XXIV.

Miss Evelyn Rhodes, Reporter.

"YOU heard?" he said helplessly. "My God! It's funny, isn't it?" He laughed hysterically, and drawing out his handkerchief passed it across his forehead. "A pleasant thing to think about—a pleasant thing to remember."

"I thought I'd join you," said Professor Bolton. "Why, David, what is it? What's the matter?"

"Nothing," replied Kendrick wildly. "There's nothing the matter. Let me—by—please." He crossed the swaying platform and disappeared into the other car.

The train slowed down at a small yellow station. Mr. Magee peered out the window. "Hooperstown," he read. "Reuton—Ten Miles." He saw Mr. Max get up and leave the car.

Noislessly Max returned to the group and stood silent, his eyes wide, his yellow face pitiful, the fear of a dog about to be whipped in his every feature.

"Jim," he cried, "Jim! You got to get me out of this. You got to stand by me."

"Why, what's the matter, Lou?" asked the mayor in surprise.

"Matter enough," whined Max. "Do you know what's happened? Well, I'll tell you."

Mr. Max was thrust aside and replaced by a train newsboy. Mr. Magee felt that he should always remember that boy, his straw colored hair, his freckled beaming face, his lips with their fresh perpetual smile.

"All the morning papers, gents," proclaimed the boy. "Get the Reuton Star. All about the bribery."

He held up the paper. It's huge black headlines looked dull and old and soggy. But the story they told was new and live and startling.

"The Mayor Trapped," shrieked the headlines. "Attempt to Pass Big Bribe at Baldpate Inn Foiled by Star Reporter. Hayden of the Suburban Commits Suicide to Avoid Disgrace."

"Give me a paper, boy," said the mayor. "Yes—a Star." His voice was even, his face unmoved. He took the sheet and studied it, with an easy smile. Clinging in fear to his side, Max read too. At length Mr. Cargan spoke, looking up at Magee.

"So," he remarked; "so—reporters, eh—you and your lady friend? Reporters for this lying sheet—the Star?"

Mr. Magee smiled up from his own copy of the paper.

"Not I," he answered, "but my lady friend—yes. It seems she was just that. A Star reporter you can call her and tell no lie, Mr. Mayor."

It was a good story—the story which the mayor, Max, the professor and Magee read with varying emotions there in the smoking car. The girl had served her employers well, and Mr. Magee, as he read, felt a thrill of pride in her. Evidently the employers had felt that same thrill. For in the captions under the pictures, in the headlines and in a first page editorial, none of which the girl had written, the Star spoke admiringly of its woman reporter who had done a man's work—who had gone to Baldpate inn and had brought back a gigantic bribe fund "alone and unaided."

"Indeed?" smiled Mr. Magee to himself.

In the editorial on that first page the triumphant cry of the Star arose to shatter its fellows in the heavens. At last, said the editor, the long campaign which his paper alone of all the Reuton papers had waged against a corrupt city administration was brought to a successful close. The victory was won. How had this been accomplished? Into the Star office had come rumors a few days back of the proposed payment of a big bribe at the inn on Baldpate mountain. The paper had decided that one of its representatives must be on the ground. It had debated long whom to send. Miss Evelyn Rhodes, its well known special writer, had got the tip in question; she had pleaded to go to the inn. The editor, considering her sex, had sternly refused. Then gradually he had been brought to see the wisdom of sending a girl rather than a man. The sex of the former would put the guilty parties under surveillance off guard. So Miss Rhodes was dispatched to the inn. Here was her story. It convicted Cargan beyond a doubt. The very money offered as a bribe was now in the hands of the Star editor and would be turned over to Prosecutor Drayton at his request. All this under the disquieting title, "Prison Stripes For the Mayor."

The girl's story told how, with one companion, she had gone to Upper Asquewan Falls. There was no mention of the station waiting room nor of the tears shed therein on a certain evening, Mr. Magee noted. She had reached the inn on the morning of the day when the combination was to be phoned. Bland was already there. Shortly after came the mayor and Max.

"You got to get me out of this," Magee heard Max pleading over Cargan's shoulder.

"Keep still!" replied the mayor roughly. He was reading his copy of the Star with keen interest now.

"I've done your dirty work for years," whined Max. "Who puts on the rubber shoes and sneaks up dark alleys hunting votes among the garbage, while you do the Old Glory stunt on Main street? I do. You got to get me out of this. It may mean jail. I couldn't stand that. I'd die."

A horrible parody of a man's real fear was in his face. The mayor shook himself as though he would be rid forever of the coward hanging on his arm.

"Hush up, can't you?" he said. "I'll see you through."

"You got to," Lou Max wailed.

Miss Rhodes' story went on to tell how Hayden refused to phone the combination; how the mayor and Max dynamited the safe and secured the precious package, only to lose it in another moment to a still different contingent at the inn; how Hayden had come, of his suicide when he found that his actions were in danger of exposure—"a bitter smile for Kendrick in that" reflected Magee—and how finally, through a strange series of accidents, the money came into the hands of the writer for the Star. These accidents were not given in detail.

"An amusing feature of the whole affair," said Miss Evelyn Rhodes, "was the presence at the inn of Mr. William Hollowell Magee, the New York writer of light fiction, who had come there to escape the distractions of a great city, and to work in the solitude, and who immediately on his arrival became involved in the surprising drama of Baldpate."

"I'm an amusing feature," reflected Magee.

"Mr. Magee," continued Miss Rhodes, "will doubtless be one of the state's chief witnesses when the case against Cargan comes to trial, as will also Professor Thaddeus Bolton, holder of the Crandall chair of comparative literature at Reuton university, and David Kendrick, formerly of the Suburban, but who retired six years ago to take up his residence abroad. The latter two went to the inn to represent Prosecutor Drayton and made every effort in their power to secure the package of money from the reporter for the Star, not knowing her connection with the affair."

"Well, Mr. Magee?" asked Professor Bolton, laying down the paper which he had been perusing at a distance of about an inch from his nose.

"Once again, professor," laughed Magee, "reporters have entered your life."

The old man sighed.

"You got to get me out of this," Max was still telling the mayor.

"For God's sake," cried Cargan, "shut up and let me think!" He sat for a moment staring at one place, his face still lacking all emotion, but his eyes a trifle narrower than before.

"You haven't got me yet!" he cried, standing up. "By the eternal, I'll fight to the last ditch, and I'll win. I'll show Drayton he can't play this game on me. I'll show the Star. That dirty sheet has bounded me for years. I'll put it out of business. And I'll send the reformers howling into the alleys, sick of the fuss they started themselves."

"Perhaps," said Professor Bolton, "but only after the fight of your life, Cargan."

"I'm ready for it!" cried Cargan. "I ain't down and out yet. But to think a woman—a little bit of a girl I could have put in my pocket—it's all a big joke. I'll beat them. I'll show them. The game's far from played out. I'll win, and if I don't!"

He crumbled suddenly into his seat, his eyes on that unpleasant line about "Prison Stripes For the Mayor."

"If I don't," he stammered pitifully, "well, they sent him to an island at the end. The reformers got Napoleon at the last. I won't be alone in that."

At this unexpected sight of weakness in his hero, Mr. Max set up a renewed babble of fear at his side. The train was in the Reuton suburbs now. At a neat little station it slowed down to a stop and a florid policeman entered the smoking car. Cargan looked up.

"Hello, Dan," he said. His voice was lifeless; the oldtime ring was gone.

The policeman removed his helmet and shifted it nervously.

"I thought I'd tell you, Mr. Cargan," he said. "I thought I'd warn you. You'd better get off here. There's a big crowd in the station at Reuton. They're waiting for you, sir; they've heard you're on this train. This lying newspaper, Mr. Cargan, it's been telling tales—I guess you know about that. There's a big mob. You better get off here, sir, and go downtown on a car."

If the mighty Cargan had looked limp and beaten for a moment he looked that way no more. He stood up and his head seemed almost to touch the roof of the car. Over that big patrolman he towered; his eyes were cold and hard again; his lips curved in the smile of the master.

"And why," he bellowed, "should I get off here? Tell me that, Dan."

"Well, sir," replied the embarrassed copper, "they're ugly. There's no telling what they might do. It's a bad mob. This newspaper has stirred 'em up."

"Ugly, are they?" sneered Cargan.

"Ever seen the bunch I would go out of my way for, Dan?"

"I meant it, all right, sir," said Dan—"as a friend to a man who's been a friend to me. No, I never saw you afraid of any bunch yet, but this!"

"This," replied Cargan, "is the same old bunch—the same lily livered crowd that I've seen in the streets since I laid the first paving stone under 'em myself in '91. Afraid of them? H—! I'd walk through an ant-

"Did you hear what he said? A mob!" bill as scared as I would through that mob. Thanks for telling me, Dan, but Jim Cargan won't be in the mollicodde class for a century or two yet."

"Yes, sir," said the patrolman admiringly. He turned out of the car, and the mayor turned to find Lou Max pale and fearful by his side.

"What ails you now?" he asked.

"I'm afraid," cried Max. "Did you hear what he said? A mob! I saw a mob once. Never again for me!" He tried to smile to pass it off as a pleasant jest, but he had to wet his lips with his tongue before he could go on.

"Come on, Jim. Get off here. Don't be a fool."

The train began to move.

"Get off yourself, you coward!" sneered Cargan. "Oh, I know you! It doesn't take much to make your stomach shrink. Get off!"

Max eagerly seized his hat and bag.

"I will if you don't mind," he said.

"See you later at Charlie's." And in a flash of tawdry attire he was gone.

The mayor of Reuton no longer sat limp in his seat. That brief moment of seeming surrender was put behind him. He walked the aisle of the car, fire in his eyes, battle in his heart.

"So they're waiting for me, eh?" he said aloud. "Waiting for Jim Cargan. Now, ain't it nice of them to come and meet their mayor?"

SUIT RESULTS FROM CAMPAIGN

Former Mayor of Michigan City Demanding $25,000 For Alleged Slander From Wealthy Man.

MET DEFEAT FOR RE-ELECTION

Defendant Admits Statements and Pleads Justification—Scores of Witnesses Cailed.

(By United Press.)

Michigan City, Ind., March 14.—The $25,000 slander suit of Fred C. Miller, former mayor, against William B. Hutchinson, wealthy business man of the city, and president of the Merchants' Mutual Telephone company, is on trial in the Laporte circuit court before Special Judge A. C. Hubbard of South Bend, and a jury.

Both men are democrats, and the suit is a development of a red-hot municipal campaign last fall when Miller was overwhelmingly defeated for re-election by a fusion of Republicans, Progressives and anti-administration Democrats after he had served two terms. Hutchinson was one of the most active leaders of the opposition. The suit was filed immediately after the election.

Miller charged that Hutchinson said that Miller owned and ran houses of ill repute in the redlight district known as Snarltown, and that he had recently sold a house to a madame but that the sale was only a ruse, to last until after the election. The answer of the defendant is an admission and a plea of justification, the counter assertion being one Beauregard Switzer, with whom Miller was once in partnership, as the owner of a saloon facetiously called the "bucket of blood."

Scores of witnesses have been called by each side. Among them are business men, ministers and habitudines of the red light district. The trial is expected to end soon.

this: The Panama-Pacific Exposition will be ready, not merely on time, but long before; and since no other world's fair has been ready till long afterwards, this was considered reason a-plenty for its creators to jump up and crack their collective heels together.

One year before its opening day, the $50,000,000 show place was a little more than 80 per cent finished. The first of the gigantic buildings to be completed was the Palace of Machinery—the largest wooden building ever constructed. Its completion was celebrated last December by the first indoor aeroplane flight ever made, when Lincoln Beachey flew the length of its 1000 foot naves, under its roof of Pompoian red. The next building to be completed was the huge palace of Education and Social Economy. This will be followed by the completion early this month of the Palaces of Agriculture, Varied Industries and Mines and Metallurgy. These already are roofed and domed, and the Travertine marble coating of the exterior walls is finished.

The palaces of Manufacturers, Food Products and Liberal Arts will be finished not later than June 1. Last to be completed will be the two most beautiful structures of all—the crystal palace of Horticulture, with its glass dome, 152 feet in diameter—the largest dome in the world—and the Palace of Fine Arts, which, built of enduring steel and cement, will extend in semi-lunar form nearly a quarter of a mile along a forest-bordered wilderness lake.

Under the dome of this building and dominating the whole display of statuary, will be the first statue ever erected to Motherhood, the contribution of the Pioneer Mothers' Association of California. This building will house the largest loan collections of paintings, mostly modern, from Europe and America, ever assembled at an exposition.

It was estimated today that 60,000 exhibitors will be represented in these various exhibit palaces. Three times as much space for displays from all over the world has been applied for as the eleven palaces can accommodate. No exhibit not manufactured or produced within the past ten years will be received in competition for prizes. It is planned to make the exhibit unique in many respects. For example, practically all the exhibits, even including those having to do with education, social economy, labor, horticulture and factory products, will be displayed living process—working models—a sort of laboratory for the fourteen millions of visitors who are expected to come as students to this Universal University.

Up to date 34 foreign nations have elected to be represented officially by pavilions and comprehensive exhibits; a greater foreign representation than any previous exposition has been able to boast.

The vast interest aroused in the San Francisco celebration is shown by the fact that every American nation between the Arctic ocean and the southpole, will be represented by buildings and displays—Argentina leading all the rest with an appropriation of $3,000,000.

Even nations so distant as Turkey, China, and Japan will spend the enormous sum of $700,000 each on their displays. France, which fell down on her Panama Canal construction plans, showed her sporting blood by appropriating $500,000 to participate in the celebration.

Thirty-five states of the Union already have decided to erect buildings. Others are soon to take similar action.

CASE OF SMALLPOX IS REPORTED HERE

Elwood Ferguson is Afflicted But no Danger of Epidemic is Feared by Health Authorities.

DOCTORING FOR THE GRIPPE

Elwood Ferguson is ill at his home in North Julian street suffering from smallpox. The case has been reported to Dr. E. I. Wooden of the city health board. The case is a mild one, according to the attending physician, and there is no need for any fear. Mr. Ferguson had been ill for about a week and had been doctoring for the grippe. Yesterday eruptions appeared and the physician pronounced it smallpox.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson had been visiting in Shirley and Indianapolis and it is supposed that he contracted the disease in one of these places. The Ferguson home has been quarantined and as far as can be learned only five persons besides Mrs. Ferguson have been exposed to the disease. The health authorities are using every precaution and believe there is no fear of an epidemic.

TWELVE NEW JURORS DRAWN

The motion of the plaintiff to make the fourth paragraph of the answer more specific was also sustained. The defendant then filed and amended fourth paragraph of answer and an amended cross-complaint. The attorneys agreed that the case should be set down for trial May 11, which is the first Monday of the May term of court.

Judge Megee has discharged the present jury and ordered another drawn which will complete the present term. The names of the jurors are as follows: Dorsey Hungerford, Orange; John T. He attempted to sell it in Shelbyville and was arrested. Thomas had been in jail since his arrest.

Wm. Western and son Walter of Batesville were here today on their way to Connersville, where they will visit for a short time.

CHILDREN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Milroy. Had the vehicle had no top so the children could fall out, it is considered likely that some of them would have been killed.

Milroy people are wondering how it happened that the escape of the school children was so miraculous when yesterday was Friday, the thirteenth, a bad combination. Some ascribe the accident to this pair of hoodoos.

It was the second calamity which befell Milroy yesterday, a Milroy resident explained today. The first was the defeat of the Milroy high school basketball team in the state tournament at Bloomington.

The following children were in the hack: Mary, Ruth and George Green, Lulu, Mary and Russell Harcourt, Ocea, Esther and Charles Foster, Stella, Mary, William and Carl Shaw, Carl Tremain, Eliza and Emma Jullion, Charles and Carl Speiling and Cecil McConn.

MUNCIE "WETS" TO PROTEST ELECTION

Petition Filed Asking That Result be Set Aside Alleging That Voting Machines Were Defective.

FREE LUNCH ALSO BLAMED

Muncie, Ind., Mar. 14.—The "wet" forces of Muncie filed a petition with the county commissioners today to set aside the result of the local election last Monday when the city voted out saloon by the majority of 462. It is alleged the voting machines were defective so that 497 votes were lost; that the "dry" election sheriffs and women serving lunch about the polls intimidated "wet" voters, causing many of them to leave the polls without voting and that "dry" manufacturers threatened to discharge men if they did not vote "dry."

It is said the contest was filed not with the hopes of ultimate success, but in order to delay closing the saloons until the licenses have expired, have expired.

Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 14.—The state basketball tournament is gradually drawing to a close and late this afternoon the race for the championship seems to lie in the grasp of four teams. Wingate, Lebanon, Centerville and New Richmond remain unbeaten and all have an equal chance for the state title. Wingate is proving the contender that was predicted and may repeat the performance of last year, when the little village carried off the state honors. Lebanon is running Wingate a close second and the real battle tonight may be between these two teams. Centerville and New Richmond have a good chance. The surprise of the day was the defeat of the strong Crawfordsville team by Wingate. Wingate won this morning from Crawfordsville by the one-sided score of 34 to 1. Brookville went out of the race this morning when Clinton defeated the Franklin county team, 20 to 12.

TESTIMONIAL TO WALDON'S WORK

Splendid Tribute Paid to Scoutmaster
at Pig Roast When Men Entertained Boy Scouts.

GIFT PRESENTED TO WALDON

Steps Are Taken to Form Local
Council Which Will be Govern-
ing Body in Local Affairs.

As a testimonial to the work of Clarence E. Waldon, Scoutmaster of the local troop of Boy Scouts, sixty-five men gathered at the pig roast given in the basement of the Main Street Christian church last night
and had as their guest as many boys,
the majority of whom were Boy Scouts.

After the banquet, a crowd of men gathered in the church parlors upstairs and arrangements were made for a Local Council, which is the governing body provided for in Scout law. A committee of six men was appointed last night and each member of the committee will bring three more men with him to a meeting at the court house assembly room next Wednesday evening, when the Local Council will be named. The members of the committee were to be consulted today and their consent to act obtained.

The Local Council will likely be composed of fifteen or eighteen men,
and it is desired that they be representative men. This body serves as a final court of appeal in local matters. Within the council is what is termed the executive council of four or five members, which practically directs the work of the local troops.
The Scout Commissioner, when appointed, will have general directing power over all the troops, which it is hoped will be organized.

As a climax to the tribute which was paid last night to Mr. Waldon, the Boy Scouts who follow the leadership of Mr. Waldon and a number of men who have appreciated his work for some time presented him with $25. The presentation speech was made by Vernal Spivey, a Scout.

For the moment Mr. Waldon was completely overcome with emotion
and could not reply. His deep appreciation of the gift and the spirit in which it was given caused the tears
to course down his cheeks; he arose
to speak, but his vocal organs refused to work and he sat down.

Mr. Waldon later thanked the men and the boys for such a splendid remembrance, more especially the feeling that lay back of the gift. He said, his voice husky, that he had become discouraged and had even made plans to give up the work this week because of the lack of co-operation and encouragement, but that since he had found the parents of the boys and other men behind the movement, he would give the best that was in him to make it grow.

The Rev. C. M. Yocum presided as toastmaster. He spoke briefly of the accomplishments of the young men in all history and in all fields of endeavor and how necessary it was that the older men pay some attention to the boys who will be bearing the burden tomorrow. As one illustration, he recalled that 2,700,000 men in the rebellion, 2,100,000 were under 21
years of age and one million were under 18 years of age.

Mr. Yocum introduced Mr. Waldon, and the Boy Scouts program started with nine rahs for the women who served the upper and for W. A. Alexander who gave the pig for the roast.
Mr. Waldon gave a brief history of the movement. He explained fully the workings of the organization.

The Daily Republican Celebrates the Tenth Anniversary of Its Birth Today

Up in the left hand corner of The Daily Republican today appears the following: "Vol. 11. No. 1." Yesterday in the same place appeared the following: "Vol. 10. No. 313."

And thereto is connected a story of ten years of work and endeavor. In other words, the Daily Republican was ten years old today.

The Daily Republican is not the infant it was ten years ago today when it timidly asked consideration from the people of Rushville and Rush county. It has abandoned its swaddling clothes, even its kilt. It has grown to a man's size even in ten years, and on this, the anniversary of its first decade on earth, it wishes profoundly and earnestly that it can advance as much in the second decade as it did in the first.

Ten years ago today the Republican appeared in four pages,
and that first day, according to stories that have been remembered through the years, the force of those days felt like it had accomplished a mighty task filling those four pages with news when had been printing a paper only twice a week.

The Republican won the favor of the people of Rushville and Rush county, and its subscription list grew fast. The patronage accorded the infant was so satisfactory that it began to cut its teeth early and kicked the slats out of the cradle long before it was expected to stand alone.

In those days the Republican possessed a simplex type-setting machine. It set the individual letters, but the Republican soon outgrew that machine, and a modern linotype was purchased. In the latter type is used, but a solid line of metal is cast and on the top is impressed the letters to form words.
Along with the linotype machine came other up-to-date equipment.

As the years sped by, the demands of the newspaper grew greater until today the Daily Republican feels that it can safely say (and not be making the statement in a spirit of braggadocio)
that it has a newspaper plant better equipped than any in Indiana, the size of the field taken into consideration.

By applying advanced methods and keeping pace with the times, the Republican has been able to win favor with the people of the city and county and its only hope is that it can continue to be of service to the community in giving all the news.

It has been in the tenth year that the Daily Republican has made the greatest strides. In addition to doubling its type-setting capacity by adding a second linotype machine, the Republican purchased the latest model flat-bed, web-perfecting newspaper press. The linotype machine enables the Republican to set more news matter and thus print more news on the day it happens.
The press makes it possible to print the whole paper at the same time and with many times greater speed. Ten years ago we started with 325 subscribers and today the new newspaper press is necessary so we can print 1805 papers in a short space of time and get the papers to our subscribers while the news is still news.

The patronage of the Republican has increased steadily which has, in a large measure, enabled it to keep the plant up-to-date and modern. The arrangement for a foreign news service to get the cream of the events outside of Rush county each day is also an achievement of the last year and added greatly to the quality and standing of the Republican as a newspaper.

While the Republican has been striving to get ahead all the time, Rushville has made wonderful changes in the last decade.
One has but to recall Rushville of ten years ago to enumerate
the marvelous changes which have been wrought: paved streets,
ornamental street lights, new school buildings, new business blocks of the most modern type, new factories, more people, a chautauqua and coliseum, new homes, more improved dirt streets, many miles of cement sidewalks added, more modern business houses and so many other things which might be enumerated.

The Republican had always hoped to set the pace, but it is free to confess that it will have to make rapid strides if it is to keep ahead, for Rushville, with the confidence coming from past accomplishments, has great things in store in the future, and it is the earnest wish of the Republican that Rushville and Rush county may prosper the next decade as it has the last.

MARSHAL IS HELD LIABLE FOR ESCAPE

Jury So Decides in Giving Mary C.
Schaeffer Judgment Against
Peter Wagoner.

STRANGE KNIGHTSTOWN CASE

Miss Mary C. Schaeffer of Knights-town, was given a judgment against Peter Wagoner, former marshal of that place, yesterday by a jury in the Henry circuit court. Miss Schaeffer demanded $300 and was given $267.90 by the jury. The Fidelity Guaranty company was also a defendant, being the bondsman for Wagoner when he was marshal of Knights-town. The jury, it is understood, had no trouble in arriving at a verdict, the general opinion being that Miss Schaeffer had been treated wrongly by Earl (Cooney) Reiser, and that since he had been allowed to escape, the person who was negligent should stand the consequences.

Miss Schaeffer was given judgment against Reiser, but as he could not be found, she then filed suit against Wagoner, who was responsible for him.

EXPOSITION TO BE READY SOON

Directors of Panama Pacific Event
Promises to Have it Finished 8
Months Ahead of Time.

IT IS 80 PER CENT DONE NOW

First of Gigantic Buildings to be Completed is Largest Wooden
Building Ever Constructed.

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Mar. 14.—The Panama Pacific Exposition will be completed eight months before the date of its scheduled opening—February 20, 1915. This was the promise made here today by its directors.

San Francisco has just turned herself loose along the two-mile waterfront of the nearly completed "enchanted city." She filled the entire day and part of a night with jubilation, sports, a naval display, races,
oratory, grand opera and bombardment
of cannon, because she had made another world-record.

The jubilee was celebrated amongst the nearly completed towering palaces with their marbled domes and their half completed parts and gorgeous gardens. And it was called forth by the certainty that everyone
of the mammoth exhibition palaces—
each one covering from five to ten acres—and every lake and fountain and avenue and garden and all the minor palaces of the exposition will be completed and ready for occupancy just eight months before the opening day. The record which the hustling Californians have broken is

SIX WOMEN GET 2 MONTHS BAD SITUATION AVERTED

Suffragists Sentenced for Breaking
Windows—Mrs. Pankhurst Freed.

(By United Press.)

London, Eng., Mar. 14.—Two months in prison at hard labor was the punishment imposed this afternoon in police court on six militant suffragists who smashed all the windows of the street floor of Home Secretary McKenna's home. The women used long-handled hammers in the raid. They made no attempt to escape arrest. They received one of the quickest trials in the history of the militant movement.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst was released today from jail after having conducted a successful hunger strike.

A new telephone has been installed at Ed Bell's home. The number

Secretary Bryan Replies to Huerta's
Protest on Arms Embargo.

(By United Press.)

Mexico City, Mar. 14.—Secretary
Bryan's formal note which reached here today, acknowledging the receipt of Huerta's protest against the lifting of the United States embargo
on the importation of arms, averted
a serious situation, according to Mexican officials, who said it would have been necessary to have given Charge O'Shaughnessy his passport
if the Washington government had not replied to Huerta's protest.

"Huerta intends to burn Mexico City as Nero burned Rome if the capture of the city by Rebels seems imminent," said a prominent Mexican today.

CONFERENCE OF CREDITORS TODAY

Several Who Hold Large Claims
Against A. P. Walker Meet in Indianapolis Today.

TO CONSIDER COMPROMISE

A conference of several of the large creditors of A. P. Walker was held today in the law office of William Henley in Indianapolis. It was understood that the conference was for the purpose of talking a compromise and settling the case with his creditors out of court. Several of the large creditors of Walker were represented at the meeting but all creditors were not notified of the meeting.
It is understood that before a compromise can be reached all the creditors have to agree and it is understood that this is impossible.

It was rumored here that an effort would be made to settle with the creditors for seventy cents on the dollar. This has been talked for some time but nothing definite done.
It is understood that even if the estate was settled for seventy cents on the dollar some of the creditors would stand to lose between six and seven thousand dollars.

CHILDREN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Nineteen Are Hurlled Down Embank-
ment Near Milroy When School
Hack Turns Over.

ROLLS DOWN TWENTY FEET

One Little Girl, Ocea Foster, May be
Fatally Hurt, But Others Are
Not Serious.

A school hack containing nineteen children rolled off the grade just west of Milroy yesterday afternoon about four o'clock. Seventeen of the nineteen children were injured, but only one seriously. Their escape is considered miraculous.

Ocea Foster was the one badly hurt. All were taken back to Milroy and given medical attention. Their injuries consisted of cuts and bruises, while the Foster girl is believed to be injured internally.

The embankment is twenty feet high and the school hack turned over two or three times. That some of the children were not killed or seriously injured is considered remarkable. The hack was torn to pieces.

Isaac Spurling, driver of the hack,
states that he turned around to say something to the children and in doing so accidentally pulled on the lines and the team brought the hack
too near the edge of the embankment.

The very fact that the hack was closed saved the lives of many of the children, it is believed, or at least saved them from fatal injuries. They were a frightened lot of youngsters
when they were brought back into

THERE IS ONE WAY TO BE SAVED

Evangelist at St. Paul M. E. Church

Points to Most Astonishing
Statement in the Bible.

CONTRAST TO OTHER FAITHS

Big Day For Tomorrow is Planned
With Special Evangelistic Turn
to All the Services.

There was a large audience present at the Methodist church last night in attendance at the evangelistic meetings. Mr. Harriman sang, "The Pilot song." He also preached the sermon. The text was, Acts 4:12,
"Neither is there any other name under heaven, that is given among men,
wherein we must be saved."

This was the most astonishing
statement in the scriptures, he said.
It would seem at first to be igotistic
in that it assumed there was no other way of salvation. Yet this was true.

He contrasted the christian religion with other religions, showing that these did not save but led men into deeper superstition and despair, while Christ in the gospel led them into peace and hope.

He first pointed out that salvation was redemption from sin. Sin was the universal fact with which all had to deal. Christ alone was able to deal with this. He himself was sinless and he died for sin. No other faith promised as much and no other religion could therefore save from sin, he declared.

The Christian Scientists were "in error" in that they denied the reality of sin, and the necessity for an atonement of sin, the evangelist continued. This sect had no corner on the spirit of optimism either, he said,
as he mentioned the second element
in salvation which he called "Present Comfort." He pointed out how Christ brought to men consolation
amid all the difficulties and discouragements of life. This phase of Christianity had been emphasized
for centuries, long before the Christian Science Sect had arisen, he said.

The latter, therefore, was telling the world nothing new when it stressed the possibility of serenity in the midst of trial and trouble, he added.
The hope of eternal life was again pointed out as a prominent element in the Christian religion. It gave assurance of the world to come. It was in this connection that he related a touching story of a Japanese who had studied the Christian religion with the view of criticizing it. This man attended the funeral of the child of a missionary. He observed that the Christians did not sorrow as the Japanese with desperate wailing and evident despair, or as Paul expressed it, "they sorrowed not as those who have no hope." This fact convinced the native critic that there was a reality in the Christian religion
in that gave men hope and assuaged
their sorrow.

Tomorrow, will be an interesting
day at the church. All the services will be given an evangelistic turn.
Decision Day will be held in the Sunday school. It is anticipated that many young people will make the decision tomorrow. Mr. Harriman will address the Sunday school at the close of the Sunday school period on
"What it Means to be a Christian."
Mr. Harriman will also preach at the evening service. He will sing at the services tomorrow, at the Sunday school, the morning preaching services and will sing two solos at the night service.

Tomorrow the congregation will be invited to make their first offering toward the expenses of the meetings.

HOPE TO PLANT MILLION TREES

This is Slogan of Indiana Forestry Association and Bids Fair to be Realized

IN CHARGE OF O. A. CHARLES

Arbor Day Plans are Backed by Commercial Clubs Through out State—Will Continue Campaign

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., March 14.—"A million trees planted in Indiana on Arbor day," the slogan and hope of the Indiana Forestry Association, bids fair to be realized now that the matter has been taken up by the commercial clubs, chamber of commerce, business men's, merchant's and civic association of the state.

George B. Lockwood, the secretary of the association, announces that this work has been put in charge of O. A. Charles of Muncie. Mr. Charles is well acquainted with the heads of commercial clubs, chambers of commerce, and civic associations all over the state as he has been actively engaged in organizing and lecturing before such bodies, and he has a reputation of making good in any civic enterprises he takes up.

The matter of planting trees has been taken up with every organized body of business, commercial and civic interests in the state and the response to the invitation to participate in planting trees on Arbor day shows that the people of Indiana are very much alive to the value of the movement.

commerce at a meeting of the board of directors March 4th, took up the question of planting trees on Arbor day and an effort will be made to have from 2,000 to 2,500 trees planted in that city.

One of the significant features of the Arbor day campaign before commercial clubs is the fact that individual merchants and business men are taking up this movement. M. Schultz, the proprietor of a department store at LaFayette, has made it an annual custom to give away two hundred trees every spring, and reports of similar movements by other towns are coming in from all over the country.

Charles states that there are about a hundred active commercial organizations in Indiana and he says that practically all of these organizations will take an active part in the movement for planting trees on Arbor day.

An active campaign is being kept up to keep interest alive. Charles says that trees suitable for planting can be obtained for ten cents each and he believes that no city could spend a hundred dollars in any way that would be as beneficial as in the buying of one thousand trees and planting them on that day.

what it will accomplish with the boy and the reasons for its existence. The speakers later confessed that they knew nothing of the movement and that they were very much impressed with the conception of it they had.

Mrs. Waldon gave a reading and was compelled to respond with a second that aroused more applause than the first.

W. M. McBride followed with a toast to the Boy Scout movement. He won favor with the boys instantly with several clever stories. He said he was reminded of a story as he sat across the table from Ralph Payne and Link Giffin during the "battle of pigs." The old colored woman, he said, was late to church and the parson severely reprimanded her. She explained that she had had an accident. The parson answered that in such cases she should just "trust to de Lord" and come ahead.

"But parson," she replied, "I was a trustin' in the Lord until the bellie hand broke, then I just give up."

Mr. McBride said he had always had a faint idea of what Mr. Waldon was accomplishing with the boys, but that he had never appreciated his work as he should. He said the fibre of the man was easily explained by the way he gave way to his emotions when presented with the gift. Mr. McBride spoke of the excellent opportunities which were presented in work of the sort Mr. Waldon was doing because of the fine supply of "raw material."

E. O. Humes and W. A. Alexander were called on and each spoke briefly. Ralph Payne was asked to speak. He said that in making a survey during the Men and Religion Forward Movement here he had found that little attention was given to the boys of Boy Scout age. He said that they need encouragement, especially from men. He pleaded for the friendly nod to the boy, no matter where he is or who he is. He declared that the men owed it to the boys. He expressed hearty approval of the movement and offered to co-operate in any way.

O. C. Norris said that he had learned more of the movement than he ever knew and that he was ready to do his part. Carl Webb, in response to a call of his name, declared that he had always felt that Mr. Waldon was doing a wonderful work, but had feared that it was not appreciated. He urged the organization of the local council.

John A. Tittsworth was asked to speak. He declared every man derelict who does not voice approval and appreciation of Mr. Waldon's work. He recalled that he had said to a man two years ago that Mr. Waldon was accomplishing wonders with the boys. The man replied that he knew that, but he was afraid very few others knew it. A short time later, Mr. Tittsworth said, an expert in boys work came here and he said he was more impressed with Mr. Waldon and his accomplishments with boys than anything he had seen in Rushville. The next day it was in the newspapers, Mr. Tittsworth said, and then everyone began to realize what Mr. Waldon was doing. Mr. Tittsworth spoke of a value of a friendly smile to a boy and how he prized recognition from his elders.

Dr. C. H. Parsons spoke briefly concerning the movement and expressed his hearty co-operation. A virolo from George C. Wyatt & company's furnished several selections.

FADDISH DANCES ARE UNHEALTHY

This is Declaration of Athletic Director at Ohio State University. Causes Stoop Shoulders.

INTERFERES WITH BREATHING

(By United Press.)

Columbus, O., March 14—Faddish dances are unhealthy.

Such was the declaration today of Dr. H. Shindle Wingert, athletic director at Ohio State university.

"This slouchy walk that masquerades under the name of a dance is ruining the poise and natural grace of half our students," he said. "It is my belief, based on observation, that this walk is unhealthy. It tends to cause stooped shoulders and flat chests which interfere with normal respiration. College students dance more than other people, and naturally are the first to be affected."

"The many variations of the 'castle walk' and the 'fish walk' require only locomotion. The result is that the exercise in dancing is lost. Instead come the flat chests and stooped shoulders," Dr. Wingert declared that the new dances taught under university supervision apparently have been forgotten. The reason for this, he said, is due to the fact that in dancing new steps one has to think of what they are doing and that cannot be done while carrying on a conversation.

The Newcastle Times announced that the piano company at Newcastle is closed until the first of April. It said this was in accordance with the announcement made the first of the year, as it was necessary to make certain repairs to the boiler and one of the engines.
The Newcastle Courier passes the Times the lie. The Courier says that

Linking Push To Pull
When the manufacturer of a nationally advertised product comes into the columns of this newspaper with his announcements, he is spending money to pull customers into the store of the merchants who keep his wares.
It is up to the merchant to put his push behind the manufacturer's pull.
Push and pull together accomplish much.
Push and pull in this sense mean intelligent co-operation.
That means better service to the public.
And the natural regards of better service are increased business and profits.
The linking of Push and Pull in the co-operative way is the right way.

the announcement is a "sample of the stuff being worked off on the people by the Democratic press in order to bolster up business conditions all over the country." The Courier says the plain and unvarnished truth is the piano factory is down, all departments being closed except the action room, which has enough work to keep it going a few weeks.
The Courier continues that "the factory is down, like those of its kind all over the United States, is down because business is slack. People are not buying pianos for some reason or other and the factories have not the orders. That's the truth and every piano man will tell you so."
"The Starr piano factory at Richmond has been down for several weeks and scores of workmen from Richmond have been here hunting jobs. The situation is the same all over the middle west and the east. Something has happened to knock the bottom out of the business and the man who works in the mill room, at the bench, in the regulating room, polishing department or varnishing room is being made to suffer. He is the man who feels it first and the longest."
"The string department at the local piano factory is entirely separate from the main institution, the owners simply renting space and power from the French Co. That department is down and not an employee is working and its largest customers, representing piano concerns all over the country, have either cut their orders in half or are placing none at all."
"Of course, every one hopes and prays that the shut-down will not be for long, at least no longer than at present contemplated, April 1. It is the first halt the French plant has made since the "bankers' panic" of 1907, but business quickly recovered from that inexcusable flurvy."
In the meantime the local Democratic organ must not try to work off

on an unsuspecting public such guff as is contained in the announcement. It was printed either through ignorance or with a design to deceive and fool people as to the conditions over the country. The Courier wants and likes prosperity as much as The Times does, but no amount of fibbing and deception is going to bring it.
When the Democratic county convention meets Saturday it will be well for the resolutions committee to bear in mind that to "point with pride" to the "prosperous conditions" will hardly be borne out by local facts, the cause of which is far more deeply seated than "certain repairs to the boiler and one of the engines."

*****
(By United Press.)

Philadelphia, Mar. 14—Thanks to "Billy" there's many a wandering, scrawny alley cat or abused homeless dog that will hereafter be able to find refuge when sick or starving. "Billy" was a huge Maltese cat that for sixteen years was a member of the household of Dr. William B. Griggs, of 1326 North Twelfth street.
Before "Billy" was five years old he had become famous among the doctor's patients and among the neighbors and hundreds of school children who passed the house daily, through the tricks he had learned.
One of his favorites was begging coins. To patients who were waiting in the doctor's reception room "Billy" would stretch out his paws and in unmistakable sign language beg for money. If the patient happened to be a man, Billy would stand on his hind legs, and resting one of his front paws on the patient's leg would strike the man with his paw until he heard the jingle of coins in a pocket. In the case of a woman Billy would jump to the patient's lap, and struggle with a handbag or purse until the owner produced a coin for him. He would take the coin gingerly in his mouth, run with it to the edge of the rug and push it under. No amount of coaxing could get Billy away from that spot until Dr. Griggs or his wife removed the coin. The doctor and his wife kept the coins in a bank that belonged to Billy.
A few days ago, Billy departed from these nine feline lives. The diagnosis was old age and complications. The bank was opened and found to contain $5.83—all of it earned by Billy through his tricks. With this nucleus Dr. Griggs added another sum and presented it all to the Morris Refuge Association to be used in establishing a hospital here devoted exclusively to the treatment of cats and dogs. The fund which Billy started by bequeathing all his worldly wealth to the Morris Refuge Association, is soon to be increased materially and the hospital is to be opened in a few weeks. No animal, no matter how sick, no matter how old, no matter what his antecedents and environments, will be refused treatment at the hospital.

PROSECUTION IS ABOUT DONE

Reported That Further Investigation
of Bloomington Church Case
May be Held, However.
TRANSCRIPT IS BEING MADE
Whether Commission Will Render
Verdict at Close of Trial is Problematical Now.

Martinsville, Ind., March 14.—When the last witness had been examined last night the prosecution in the trial of the Rev. John R. Ellis of Bloomington by a commission appointed by the Indianapolis Presbytery was practically completed. Several additional witnesses came from Bloomington during the day to corroborate those who had preceded them, and at adjournment time the Rev. Mr. Ellis himself had not been on the witness stand.
Members of the Bloomington congregation, who are pushing the charges to have their former pastor ousted from the presbytery, were much pleased when the commission ruled to admit the depositions of three Bloomington women, which, it is said, contained most of the charges against the minister.
The last witness brought from Bloomington was John Elmi, one of the church elders, who was called by telephone and arrived in a taxi. Miss Margie Campbell, a student of the Bloomington High School, testified that she had seen a woman enter the minister's study at the church by a side door.
Other witnesses for the church were Dr. Horace A. Hoffman, head of the economics department of Indiana University; Dr. Homer E. Strain, George Hohn Charles H. Springer, Joseph Ratliff and M. H. Waterman, all office bearers of the congregation.
It was reported that the commission would send a committee to Bloomington to continue its investigations.
A stenographer has been present at all the sessions and at the close she will make a complete transcript of the evidence, furnishing each member of the committee with a carbon copy.
Whether the commission will render its verdict at the close of the trial or at a later date is not known.
Those in charge of the case for the church telephoned to Bloomington for Dr. E. H. Lindley to come to this city. Dr. Lindley is at the head of the philosophy department of Indiana University, and it is said that he may be used by the congregation in case Ellis brings up any points concerning hypnotism by the medical experts at the Clifton Springs sanitarium in New York.
Mrs. Ellis and sons were on the stand last night.

TRADE BALANCE IS IN FAVOR OF U.S.

For the Period of January, 1914,
Alone, the Sum on the Right Side of the Ledger was $50,000,000.

IMPORTS BY THE DIVISIONS

Total for Three Classes During Seven Months Ending Last January
Exceed $573,000,000.

[Special to the Daily Republican.]

Washington, March 14.—Detailed figures of the imports and exports from the United States for January and the seven months ended with January, 1914, published today by the Department of Commerce, show imports in January approximating $154,400,000 and exports slightly in excess of $204,100,000, a total trade of a little over $358,500,000. In the seven months' period ended with January, 1914, imports were a little below $1,067,900,000 and exports were something more than $1,522,100,000, an aggregate trade in excess of $2,590,000,000. The trade balance favoring the United States is about $50,000,000 for the month of January 1914, and for the seven months ended January, 1914, exceeds $451,000,000.

Looking at the figures by groups, the imports in January of the three classes of manufactures were of "Foodstuffs partly or wholly manufactured" a little over $15,700,000, of "Manufactures for further use in manufacturing" something over $25,200,000, and of "Manufactures ready for consumption" more than $39,000,000, a total exceeding $79,900,000. Exports in the same classes were $29,100,000, and $52,400,000, respectively, an aggregate of over $111,000,000. Each class of manufactures shows a substantial trade balance in favor of the United States. The total imports of the three classes of manufactures for the seven months ended with January, 1914, exceeded $573,000,000 and the total exports surpassed $828,000,000, showing a balance of trade in favor of the United States approximating $265,000,000.

The figures by grand divisions for January, 1914, in comparison with January, 1913, show increases in imports of about $2,200,000 from North America and about $300,000 from Oceania, while imports from the other

grand divisions decreased. Exports to Asia increased about $500,000, and to Africa about $700,000, but decreased to the other grand divisions. In the seven months ended January, 1914, as compared with corresponding period of the preceding year, imports from North America increased about $30,000,000 and from Asia about $3,000,000, but decreased from the other grand divisions. On the export side, our sales to Europe increased about $17,500,000, to Asia about $11,600,000, to Oceania about $1,000,000, and to Africa something over $500,000, but to North America they decreased about $31,000,000 and to South America about $4,000,000.

Our best customers in January, 1914, as well as in the seven months ended with January, 1914, were the United Kingdom, Germany, Canada, and France in the order named, and they retained the relative positions held by them in the corresponding periods of the preceding year. Our aggregate trade with the United Kingdom in January of this year exceeded $84,000,000, an increase of nearly $3,000,000 over January of last year, and the increased sales to that country were even greater than the increased total trade, as imports therefrom fell off about $200,000. Germany with a total trade exceeding $50,000,000 in January, 1914, also shows increased trade over January, 1913, the gain being about $2,000,000. With Germany also the increase in sales thereto, amounting to about $3,400,000, is greater than the increase in total trade. Trade with the United Kingdom in the seven months' period under consideration shows a decrease in the aggregate approximating $27,000,000, of which less than $5,400,000 is in our sales thereto. In the same period, trade with Germany increased about $17,500,000 in the aggregate, while our exports to that country increased over $23,600,000. Thus, trade with our two best customers, the two largest manufacturing countries of the world with which we have to deal, shows increasing balances favoring the United States, both for the month of January and for the seven months ended with January, 1914.

With Canada and France, our

A STAY-AT-HOME EPIDEMIC

(By United Press.)

Bedford, Ind., March 14.—A "stay-at-home" epidemic has prevailed in this city for almost two weeks, and many Bedford wives have embraced the opportunity to become better acquainted with their husbands. No "important business, club, lodge, or church meeting" excuses were even attempted for the city board of health has had in effect a quarantine stopping public meetings of all kinds. Churches, schools, theaters, clubs, lodges and all public gathering places have been affected. The pool and billiard rooms of the city became social centers and they were closed.

A small-pox scare that never has approached an epidemic was the cause of turning out the downtown lights attractive to the "sterner" population. Failure to call physicians promptly created opportunities for a spread of the dreaded disease that never materialized. The health department took no chances and upon the first diagnosis clamped down the lid with a vengeance. Thanks to the severe quarantine the city will soon be practically free from small-pox, it is believed.

COULD NOT STAND ON FEET

Mrs. Baker So Weak—Could Not Do Her Work—Found Relief in Novel Way.

Adrian, Mich. — "I suffered terribly with female weakness and backache and got so weak that I could hardly do my work. When I washed my dishes I had to sit down and when I would sweep the floor I would get so weak that I would have to get a drink every few minutes, and before I did my dusting I would have to lie down. I got so poorly that my folks thought I was going into consumption. One day I found a piece of paper blowing around the yard and I picked it up and read it. It said 'Saved from the Grave,' and told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for women. I showed it to my husband and he said, 'Why don't you try it?' So I did, and after I had taken two bottles I felt better and I said to my husband, 'I don't need any more,' and he said 'You had better take it a little longer anyway.' So I took it for three months and got well and strong." — Mrs. ALONZO E. BAKER, 9 Tecumseh St., Adrian, Mich.

SUIT RESULTS FROM CAMPAIGN

Former Mayor of Michigan City Demanding $25,000 For Alleged Slander From Wealthy Man.

MET DEFEAT FOR RE-ELECTION

Defendant Admits Statements and Pleads Justification—Scores of Witnesses Called.

(By United Press.)

Michigan City, Ind., March 14.—The $25,000 slander suit of Fred C. Miller, former mayor, against William B. Hutchinson, wealthy business man of the city, and president of the Merchants' Mutual Telephone company, is on trial in the Laporte circuit court before Special Judge A. C. Hubbard of South Bend, and a jury. Both men are democrats, and the suit is a development of a red-hot municipal campaign last fall when Miller was overwhelmingly defeated for re-election by a fusion of Republicans, Progressives and anti-administration Democrats after he had served two terms. Hutchinson was one of the most active leaders of the opposition. The suit was filed immediately after the election. Miller charged that Hutchinson said that Miller owned and ran houses of ill repute in the redlight district known as Snarltown, and that he had recently sold a house to a madame but that the sale was only a ruse, to last until after the election. The answer of the defendant is an admission and a plea of justification, the counter assertion being one Beauregard Switzer, with whom Miller was once in partnership, as the owner of a saloon facetiously called the "bucket of blood."

Scores of witnesses have been called by each side. Among them are business men, ministers and habitués of the red light district. The trial is expected to end soon.

this: The Panama-Pacific Exposition will be ready, not merely on time, but long before; and since no other world's fair has been ready till long afterwards, this was considered reason a plenty for its creators to jump up and crack their collective heels together.

One year before its opening day, the $50,000,000 show place was a little more than 80 per cent finished. The first of the gigantic buildings to be completed was the Palace of Machinery—the largest wooden building ever constructed. Its completion was celebrated last December by the first indoor aeroplane flight ever made, when Lincoln Beachey flew the length of its 1000 foot nave, under its roof of Pompeian red. The next building to be completed was the huge palace of Education and Social Economy. This will be followed by the completion early this month of the Palaces of Agriculture, Varied Industries and Mines and Metallurgy. These already are roofed and domed and the Travertine marble coating of the exterior walls is finished.

The palaces of Manufacturers, Food Products and Liberal Arts will be finished not later than June 1. Last to be completed will be the two most beautiful structures of all—the crystal palace of Horticulture, with its glass dome, 152 feet in diameter—the largest dome in the world—and the Palace of Fine Arts, which, built of enduring steel and cement, will extend in semi-lunar form nearly a quarter of a mile along a forest-bordered wilderness lake.

Under the dome of this building and dominating the whole display of statuary, will be the first statue ever erected to Motherhood, the contribution of the Pioneer Mothers' Association of California. This building will house the largest loan collections of paintings, mostly modern, from Europe and America, ever assembled at an exposition.

It was estimated today that 60,000 exhibitors will be represented in these various exhibit palaces. Three times as much space for displays from all over the world has been applied for as the eleven palaces can accommodate. No exhibit not manufactured or produced within the past ten years will be received in competition for prizes. It is planned to make the exhibit unique in many respects. For example, practically all the exhibits, even including those having to do with education, social economy, labor, horticulture and factory products, will be displayed living processes—working models—a sort of laboratory for the fourteen millions of visitors who are expected to come as students to this Universal University.

Up to date 34 foreign nations have elected to be represented officially by pavilions and comprehensive exhibits; a greater foreign representation than any previous exposition has been able to boast.

The vast interest shown in the San Francisco celebration is shown by the fact that every American nation between the Arctic ocean and the southpole, will be represented by buildings and displays—Argentina leading all the rest with an appropriation of $3,000,000.

Even nations so distant as Turkey, China, and Japan will spend the enormous sum of $700,000 each on their displays. France, which fell down on her Panama Canal construction plans, showed her sporting blood by appropriating $500,000 to participate in the celebration.

Thirty-five states of the Union already have decided to erect buildings. Others are soon to take similar action.

MUNCIE "WETS" TO PROTEST ELECTION

Petition Filed Asking That Result be Set Aside Alleging That Voting Machines Were Defective.

FREE LUNCH ALSO BLAMED

(By United Press.)

Muncie, Ind., Mar. 14.—The "wet" forces of Muncie filed a petition with the county commissioners today to set aside the result of the local election last Monday when the city voted out saloon by the majority of 462. Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 14.—The state basketball tournament is gradually drawing to a close and late this afternoon the race for the championship seems to lie in the grasp of four teams. Wingate, Lebanon, Centerville and New Richmond remain unbeaten and all have an equal chance for the state title. Wingate is proving the contender that was predicted and may repeat the performance of last year, when the little village carried off the state honors. Lebanon is running Wingate a close second and the real battle tonight may be between these two teams. Centerville and New Richmond have a good chance. The surprise of the day was the defeat of the strong Crawfordsville team by Wingate. Wingate won this morning from Crawfordsville by the one-sided score of 34 to 1. Brookville went out of the race this morning when Clinton defeated the Franklin county team, 20 to 12.
